

Get $25 Off Your First Order of $100 or More on ASD's Revamped Website!

Source: Advanced Systems & Designs, Inc. (ASDQMS)

Dated: Aug 09, 2012

ASDQMS has recently launched its revamped website and wants to provide its customers with an incentive to use the easy, seamless online store to order products with just a click of the mouse!

With the release of our revamped website, ASDQMS wants to remind our customers that we're not just another online electronics catalog, but an engineering, data collection interface and software resource carefully designed to operate the way you do.

On our new web store, you can intuitively navigate to the exact data collection interface or software you need. Products are broken down into self-explanatory categories, making it easy to search to fulfill your exact data collection need. Using our store streamlines the multi-step quoting, PO drafting and submission process into a click of the mouse!

Give our new store a shot. When you register and place your first order of $100 or more, we'll take $25 off of your purchase (offer good until December 31, 2012). It's a great way to try us out and experience what ASDQMS brings to shop floors like yours every day. To redeem this offer, simply go to www.spcanywhere.com and enter your email in the "Instant Coupon" box to have the coupon code emailed to you. Just enter the coupon code when you go to check out, and the $25 will be taken off your purchase!
